

CODI WORKERS HELPFUL AT SHREDDING DOCUMENTS

Everything does happen for a reason. Recently I discovered a workplace like no other - Career Opportunity Development Inc. in Egg Harbor City.

Hurricane Sandy caused several leaks to my roof, destroying some Christmas decorations, years of tax returns and other personal records. This also created a need to clean out the attic - but what to do with 144 pounds of personal documents?

My research found that paper shredding is big business and rather expensive. I then discovered CODI, where I was treated with courtesy and professionalism.

Upon arrival, I was greeted or acknowledged in some manner by almost every worker. During a rainstorm, they hauled all 15 boxes from my truck to the two shredders located inside the facility.

I was impressed to see about 100 proud workers stuffing envelopes, shredding papers and doing other tasks.

Three weeks later, I received a bill for $40.40 or 28 cents a pound - cheap. Included was a "Certificate of Destruction."

I am appealing to all businesses. Here is an opportunity to save money and, moreover, help disabled people who are trying to help themselves.
